

Small Work – A conversation with 72 seasons

FIONA D ARTISAN

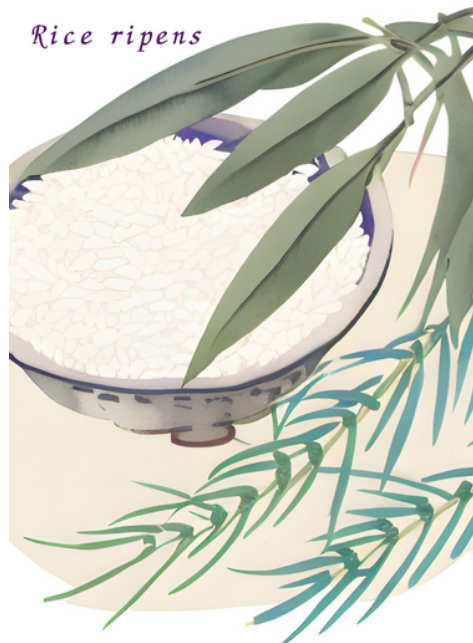

I had a moment of perfect alignment between the ancient Japanese calendar and my own seasonal changes on the island this past month. Joyful.

Next micro seasons. AI has offered us these wee images -

2nd September - 7th September

8th September - 12th September

Rice ripens

Dew glistens white on grass

13th September - 17th September

Wagtails sing

18th September - 22nd September

Swallows leave

23rd September - 27th September

Thunder ceases

28th September - 2nd October

Insects hole up underground
